OUR BIRTHDAY COMING

Eleven years ago, last April, the determination to start the publication of Linn's Weekly Stamp News was made. Plans were prepared and the first public announcement was made to collectors and dealers at the Mid-Western Stamp Exhibition held in Cleveland, Ohio, around the week in which came May 26th, the date on which the Valley Forge Stamp was first issued at Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities.

We have repeated many times, the story of the origin of this publication and the liberal support that was tendered. Its rapid growth is well known to many of its readers who have been constant subscribers and boosters ever since.

To attain the age of eleven full years is an unusual accomplishment for a Philatelic publication. We well remember the days when stamp papers sprang up like mushrooms and died as quickly. Few, if any of these publications, ever paid their publishers a cent of profit and their production was a labor of love. It was for this reason that most of them were short lived, having been brought to life by enthusiastic collectors who knew little or nothing about the hazards of the publication game.

Our own past from the year 1900 up to 1915 is strewn with the wreckage of several attempts at the publication of a monthly paper, none of which ever proved profitable and it was about this time that we determined that if we ever again started a stamp publication, it would be a weekly, for only in a weekly could we see an opportunity to succeed.

How well we have done this is best judged by our record of the past eleven years. What we will accomplish in the future is yet before us, but suffice to say we are now better prepared, better able than ever before to produce a publication of this nature. We have had our ups and downs in the past eleven years, our greatest circulation being 20,000 copies weekly. We hope to again reach this figure in a short time and then continue to climb, because we do believe that a stamp weekly can attain much greater heights.

We attribute our success to the fact that we have always been liberal with our readers and have cooperated with them as much as we have asked them to cooperate with us. We have tried to share with them by providing them a publication at a price so low that all collectors can afford to subscribe and we have found that this fact has been appreciated, for many of our subscriptions come to us in groups of five to ten at a time from readers who have been so enthusiastic that they have asked their friends for their subscriptions and sent them to us.

Truly this is a thing that all readers should do because there is nothing that will keep up interest, arouse dormant interest or create new interest so much as will the regular weekly receipt of a stamp publication and with Linn's Weekly at the low price at which it is available, stamp clubs have frequently voted subscriptions for their entire membership and collectors who have been able to do so have in many instances given subscriptions to their friends.

This however is unnecessary, for if you will but tell your friends, show them the paper and explain its low cost you can easily get them to furnish the 25c that is necessary for a year's subscription, and we hope that to help us celebrate our birthday all during November that our readers will do their part by showering us with new subscriptions.

For our part, we are planning a series of special offers to be printed in the four November issues. Starting with November 4th, we will enter our twelfth continuous year of publication. We intend each week to print a special offer that will be good during a short period of time following publication. The time allowed will be sufficient for all readers to take advantage of the offers we make.

We have a couple surprise offers in the way of new products that we are going to offer in this manner. One of these will be offered at a price below its regular price just as an introductory offer and will be offered in a novel manner, with a view to putting it within your reach at a lower cost than could be done in any other manner.

We feel confident that our readers will be interested in these new offers and in the four birthday special offers that we will make during November. Just keep your eyes open and watch for these offers and in the meantime, start that subscription campaign for us and see if we can not add 1000 new subscribers during November.—George W. Linn.

Canadian Stamps That Might Have Been

By A. S. DEAVILLE, Chief, Philatelic Division, Ottawa, Canada.

TWO well-organized Societies, the American Peace Centenary Committee, with headquarters in New York, and the Canadian Peace Centenary Association, with headquarters in Ottawa, promoted suitable observance of the Centenary of Peace between the British Empire and the United States of America. Even at a time when the whole structure of Western Civilization seemed toppling into utter ruin, the promoters continued to work, among other things, for the issuance of special postage stamps in both Canada and the United States, to commemorate the Centenary of Peace.

On August 8th, 1914, Hon. A. S. Burleson, Postmaster-General of the United States, wrote a letter to Colonel Edward M. House, personal representative of the President, in which he said that the issue of two special stamps for the United States had been decided upon, and that he hoped to have them ready in about two months' time. Mr. John A. Stewart, Chairman of the American Peace Centenary Committee, sent a copy of this letter confidentially to the Canadian Committee, who transmitted it to the Honorable L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, at the request of Sir Edmund Walker, Chairman of the Canadian Committee. At the same time the Canadian Postmaster-General was requested to make a statement as to his intentions regarding the proposed Canadian stamps, for publication.

The Minister referred the matter to his Deputy and asked for a report before the next meeting of the Executive Committee of the Peace Centenary Association, to be held on the following Wednesday. The Deputy Minister reported adversely on the proposal, but the American Bank Note Company of Ottawa were instructed to proceed with designs for three stamps, as follows:

1-cent—Two symbolic figures sitting on either side of a shield, one, a man, blowing a horn, and the other, a woman, holding a wreath. In the shield the arms of Canada. Underneath the words "Pax Britannica et Americana". At the top corners the year-dates, 1814-1914.

2-cents—The British and American coats of arms, in circles, side by side. Above, a dove, over a wreath in which appears the words "A Century of Peace between the British Empire and the United States." At the top corners the year-dates 1814-1914.

3-cents—A picture of the signing of the Treaty of Ghent. Underneath the words "The Signing of the Treaty of Ghent, December 24th, 1814". At the sides, torches alight, and at the top corners the year-dates 1814-1914.

On September 21st, Mr. Machado, Vice-President of the Bank Note Company, handed in the prepared models or designs, and asked for instructions as to engraving, but no answer appears to have been given him, and he wrote again on 13th October, but still received no reply.

The Third Assistant Postmaster-General of the United States wrote the Postmaster-General of Canada on 12th September to the effect that his Department had been prepared to issue two special stamps for the occasion of the Centenary, but before proceding further desired to know how the matter now stood, so far as Canada was concerned.

On 9th September, Sir Edmund Walker wrote to Mr. Pelletier privately from Toronto, stating that the situation in Washington seemed to be as follows: The stamps would apparently be got ready so that should the War have a quick ending they could be issued. If, however, the War dragged along, it was safe to conclude that the stamps would not be issued. He suggested that a similar course be adopted in Canada, and strongly urged that the stamps be engraved so that they could be issued if circumstances permitted, although he expressed the opinion that it was only too probable the stamps would never appear.

The Postmaster-General endorsed Sir Edmund's letter "I think this shows good sense", and instructed his Deputy to prepare a suitable reply, but for some reason no written answer seems to have been sent, and the records end at this point. The stamps were never engraved, and the designs exist only in the "model" or artists' drawing stage. The fast-crowding events of the Autumn and Winter of 1914 pushed the scheme aside, despite numerous press references to it and much agitation by interested persons who thought that despite the carnage in the Old World, Canada and the United States should show the rest of humanity that unfortified frontiers and centuries of peace need not be mere dreams of idealists. The question was revived when the Great War at last came to an end, but no definite action was taken, and so we have another set of "Stamps that Might Have Been."—Reprinted by permission from the Ken-More Kollector.

O. P. S. Ready for Its Convention

Miami, Oklahoma, a metropolitan city in the northeast corner of Oklahoma, will be host to the Oklahoma Philatelic Society's Seventh Annual Convention October 20, 21 and 22. More than 1,000 members of the organization will gather to transact business, buy stamps and enjoy a real good time. Over 1,000 frames will be on exhibit from eleven different states. The convention will open on Friday morning, October 20, 9 a. m., with registration at the American Legion Hall which will also house the different exhibits. Forty-two U. S. Commemoratives will be sold at the post office window in the exhibit hall. Twenty dealers will open the bourse. Noon of the same day a luncheon will be held for old timers at Hotel Miami; 2 p. m., school children will view the exhibits and a caravan of cars will leave for the Grand River Dam, the largest of its type in the world, being built at a cost of fifty million dollars.

8:30 that night a special entertainment feature will be held on the exhibit floor and hundreds of stamps will be given away. Auction will be at 9 p. m.

Saturday, October 21st, will be a busy day as the largest amount of members will arrive that day. Many more free stamps will be given that morning and night. At 1 p. m. the first business meeting will be held and the next year convention will be awarded; Pawhuska, Oklahoma City, McAlester and Ardmore being bidders. The banquet and awarding of prizes will be that night. Sunday will close the convention with the final business meeting and election of officers.

The Wah-Hoos, fun organization of the O. P. S., will show activity throughout the convention. From the opening hour on through the night and up to the closing hour of the convention the Wah-Hoos will dance, sing and be merry and will "scalp" at least 25 palefaces. All war material of this organization has been in readiness for over a month and war councils have been held for the past four weeks in order to see that the rites will assure a good time to every O. P. S. member.

With the high type of material being shown, the many awards, the trip to the large dam, a visit to the largest zinc mines of the world and with the real Philatelic spirit that will prevail throughout the convention, it would be worth a thousand miles of travel to attend, the committee states, and invites every stamp collector in the U. S. to attend.

Slogan Cancels Will Feature First Days of Four State Stamps

Unusual feature of the cancellations to be used on the first day sales of the 3c Four States stamp is that these will be slogan machine cancels with date of admission of the states. Each of the four offices first to issue the stamps will have a cancel appropriate to the state in which it is located and this cancel will be used only on the first day. Bismarck, N. D., will have one inscribed "North Dakota admitted to Union November 2, 1889"; Pierre, S. D.—"South Dakota admitted to Union November 2, 1889"; Helena, Montana—"Montana admitted to Union November 8, 1889"; and Olympia, Wash.—"Washington admitted to Union November 11, 1889."

Some authorities state South Dakota was admitted on November 3, but the Post Office Department apparently decided the state was admitted on the second, same date as North Dakota.

Printing Stamp First Day

1,011,359 copies of the 3c Printing Tercentenary stamp were sold on the first day of issue at New York City. While this was a very large sale, covers sent were not a record, totalling 295,370. The unusually large sale of stamps is accounted for by the placing on sale of the stamp at all branches in addition to the special office at the Graphic Arts Exposition and the main post office. Total sale was therefore $30,340.77. Sales at the Agency at Washington the next day totalled 406,297 stamps, mainly to fill accumulated mail orders.

Twin City Active

The Twin City Philatelic Society of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., has issued its program for 1939-1940 season, which includes meetings from the current one up to next July. The club will hold its eighth annual exhibition January 11-14 at the St. Paul Hotel. On May 6 the club will have a Birthday Party for the postage stamp, with a dinner and exhibit of Penny Blacks. Two debates are among the many events scheduled for the meetings, which are held alternately in both cities.

• Associated Mail Merchandisers, Inc., a national organization of mail order merchants holds meetings every third Wednesday evening at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City. Secretary is Morris Jaffa, 961—46th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

• Pensacola expects to celebrate its post office dedication the latter part of this month with a cachet. Send covers to Glen Osborn, Box 480, Pensacola, Fla.

More Stamps Withdrawn

On October 2 the Philatelic Agency withdrew from sale the 1c, 1½c, 2c and 6c of the old issue. These were the rotary printings, compound perforation, 1c Franklin 1927, 1½c full face Harding of 1930, 2c 1926-27 both with and without Electric Eye markings, and the 6c Garfield 1927. Also at the same time the 6c orange air mail stamp which was first issued in 1934 was withdrawn. The Agency also removed from sale the four kinds of booklets of the Presidential 1c, 2c and 3c booklet panes. The booklets are, however, being issued generally and will not be withdrawn from post offices. The Agency originally stocked the new booklets only as a temporary measure until they had gradually supplanted the old issue at post offices.

Kent-Ravenna Annual

Second annual exhibition, bourse and Open House of the Kent and Ravenna, Ohio, stamp clubs is announced for Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 4-5, at the Masonic Temple, Ravenna. Miss Madge Bennett, 420 Myrtle St., Ravenna, is Secretary-Treasurer and will answer inquiries about the poster stamps and will supply prospectus on request. Visiting Firemen and Stampettes will have "secret" meetings.

• Too late for our October 7th number came word that stamp collectors from both sides of the border were invited to the get-together and bourse Sunday, Oct. 15, sponsored by the St. Croix Valley Stamp Club at the Park Hotel, New Brunswick.

The Collection of R. N. Stewart, Esq.

This magnificient property comprising superb United States and rare Foreign stamps is of the magnitude and quality worthy of the attention of every serious collector.

Many great rarities are present with numerous blocks of both early and late issues. The quality of this collection is exceptional, the great majority of stamps being in such condition as to please the most particular buyer. An attractive catalogue has been prepared and for the convenience of bidders both 1939 and 1940 catalog numbers are printed in order that everyone might identify the stamps without confusion or difficulty.

In presenting this sale we feel that an indulgence in superlatives in this announcement would be amply justified. However, in line with our policy, we prefer to refrain from any "outburst" and content ourselves with the statement that here is a collection of prime importance deserving of the consideration of every collector.

If you are not on our mailing list the catalogue will be mailed upon receipt of your request.

Rovings of a New Issue Editor

Rock Island—A visit with my cousins, two of whom are stamp collectors,—William Dempsey and Mrs. Clara Hunter. . . . The former has more fun in collecting stamps than many collectors I have met recently, for he is a true general collector. Has his collection housed in the Scott Sectional Albums and the short visit did not permit a detailed study of his vast collection. . . . Clara, although she claims to be still a novice, nevertheless managed to arouse my interest with some old photos with the '62 revenues on the back, among which I noted the 3c Playing Card. . . . A stamp session one evening at one of the homes where I met Mr. G. A. Rouse and Mr. Norman Ringstrom. The former is president of the Quad City Stamp Club as well as possessing a very fine collection of Match & Medicine, which he allowed me to view. . . . Almost neglected to mention that Bill Dempsey is Secretary-Treasurer of the Quad City Stamp Club. . . . The club's annual dinner is in December; full details will be given in LINN's later. . . . Minneapolis—Where my wife and I were guests of Mr. Arthur Ferguson, his wife and her mother and father. . . . Art's son Robert is supposed to be the stamp collector, but like many fathers, the bug seems to have bitten Art. We probably helped this phase of the matter along by asking Art to accompany us around to the various dealers in the city. . . . R. A. Anderson, the big precancel dealer of that section. Had an interesting visit with him and listened with interest to the fight he is waging with the Third Assistant Postmaster General . . . E. M. Oleson, of the Hollinbeck Stamp Company, still doing business at the same stand for many years. Has a nice stock of the hard-to-get items in many countries. . . . C. M. Becken, located in the heart of the downtown business section. . . . Arthur McCracken, doing business as Art's Stamp Shop, also in the downtown business section and a little more centrally located than Becken. A fine young man who makes you feel welcome as soon as you step in. . . . A visit to the home of Harry Case. Has his den in the basement. Says that he does not have much time to devote to stamps, but still he found time to build special cabinets with small sections to each drawer in which are used blocks and singles free from paper of all commemoratives and regular issues of the U. S., for the past several years. Numerous cartons full of covers from which he has not had the time to remove the stamps. Time passed all too quickly that evening. . . . A visit to the Twin City Philatelic Society. Meets one week in Minneapolis and the other in St. Paul. This one was in St. Paul at the Athletic Club. This club was organized February 15, 1913, with a charter membership of 22. Present membership is 203. Made welcome there and asked to make a speech. Fortunately for those present we had caught a cold and our voice was weak, thereby sparing them the agony of a speech by us. . . . On to Chicago and between activities of the American Legion convention managed to get in a little stamping. . . . Joe Whiteborough, operating the Garden City Stamp Agency. Fast disposing of his foreign stock and going in solely for precancels, both local and bureau. Still has his Philo-mobile. . . . Adolf Gunesch, the original precancel dealer, who had faith in his convictions and made it pay. After viewing his collection of precancel coil pairs we wonder if we want to continue making the collection of these that we have started. Added a number of pairs to our collection while there, nevertheless. Adolf's main complaint is trying to secure enough of certain items to supply his list of customers. If you have that elusive precancel, Adolf will buy it. . . . Marshall Field's Stamp Department, operated by Mr. LaFrance and his charming wife. Strange how many wives are now assisting their husbands in the stamp trade. Wonder if they are able to charm the dollars out of our pockets easier than their husbands, or is it that they have more patience with the juvenile trade? This department is a credit to this large well-known store and though not quite as vast, compares favorably with the one in Gimbel's in New York. . . . Madison Stamp Company. A little west of the business center of Chicago, but still in a location suitable for transient trade. . . . Now for home. Too bad we did not have unlimited funds to buy all the stamps we saw we wanted in all the stamps shops on our trip.—Ray Shepard.

Agency Moderates Plate Number Regulations

For some years the Philatelic Agency has required the purchase of full sheets of stamps of lower denominations than $1 in order for the collector to obtain plate numbers. Plate numbers were not removed from margins of sheets broken, but such stamps were included indiscriminately in orders; sometimes a collector receiving almost all his blocks with plate numbers.

Recently it was decided to moderate the regulations somewhat, so that collectors could obtain plate numbers easier. It is now required to purchase blocks of 50 stamps of 3c face value or less (except the ½c) which means full sheets of the large commemoratives; blocks of 30 of values from 4c to 10c inclusive; blocks of 20 from 11c to 50c, and dollar values as before in blocks of four. The agency offers to fill orders for plate number blocks of four as far as it can supply them, if the customer is willing to accept the blocks as they come in centering. Many of these blocks would include those ordinarily returned as unsalable, due to poor centering. The new rules permitting purchase of plate numbers in blocks smaller than the full sheets does not permit ordering of any particular number or position. To obtain particular positions, full sheets must be ordered. The new rules are also a trial to see if collectors will overwork the agency with demands for numbers in such extent that a very large proportion of an issue in broken "waste" sheets must be destroyed.

Editor's Notebook

ADVERTISING CAN BE NEWS If John Jones charters a plane to fly to the moon and will for a modest fee carry covers with him, mailing them to the customer upon his return; a statement to this effect is not news, but quite obviously advertising. So Johnny's publicity release goes in the waste basket. If, however, the Post Office Department charters a plane to carry mail to Europe and it too is willing to carry covers at a modest fee represented by the stamp affixed, that is news, for such a flight is a government activity. Consequently the publicity release of such a flight reaches cold type in our news columns.

The usual course in obtaining covers of government authorized flights is to send them yourself to the postmasters involved or to pay a dealer his price for doing this for you. The trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific first flights have been somewhat complicated by the notices of rates and dates arriving too late to be of any use to collectors in obtaining covers carried on the first return flights. The Pan-American Airways as contractor stepped into the situation offering to service covers, charging a fee for the service. As this was the only means available to collectors, their list of prices as distributed by the Post Office Department was printed as news, though it was also advertising as the fees charged should have netted the firm a profit. Most papers printed these details as it was news wanted by their readers and was not in competition with their regular advertisers. Possibly the air firm could have serviced the covers without charge—some of the sloppy covers looked like something done free—but we are certain that few stamp collectors if in their shoes under like circumstances would have performed this service free. Holders of monopolies of any kind in philately have rarely shown a willingness to forego a chance to profit.

The inauguration of the two ocean routes has been far from a joy to philately. The American contractor and post office made a show of meeting demands for covers; though notices of details were extremely tardy in issuance. Would our readers prefer the attitude of one of the foreign governments involved which declined to hold covers, make any arrangements for return of covers, refuse to spend a few shillings of the profits for a cachet and in general act as contrary to common sense as possible? The attitude of neither was what collectors wanted —R. R.

Perfs and Imperfs

OFF THE PRESS ON AUGUST 22 rolled the First Anniversary number of the Airmail Digest, official organ of the Philippine Air Mail Society. Pablo Esperidion, author of our occasional Philippine Notes is the editor of this journal and though previous numbers have been unusually interesting and surprisingly extensive in their scope, this number outdoes them all. The cover in colors reproduces in miniature the covers of all other aero-philatelic periodicals and between the covers are 104 pages of news and articles. Congratulations, Pablo on a fine magazine. The Philippines take no back seat when it comes to stamp papers. If you are interested in airmails you'll find the magazine easily worth the one dollar subscription; in fact Pablo could safely give a money back guarantee with each sub.

NATIONAL LETTER WRITING Week should have been good for postal revenues. It also should have been a headache for postal clerks as many of the delinquent writers probably dug out the frayed and mayhemed stamps laid aside in drawer or billfold for use at some indefinite future time of need. Correspondents will have been able to determine the last time their friend wrote by the vintage of stamp used.

THOUGH OUT OF THE HEADLINES, the war in China continues to make trouble for stamp collectors and dealers. The continuing fall of the Chinese National dollar has played havoc with prices and in the dilemma the publisher of the Asia Stamp Journal has announced subscription rates will vary at the rate of exchange month by month.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED

Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue, 1940, 96th Edition, published by Scott Publications, Inc., 1 W. 47th St., New York City, price $3.00 ($3.50 thumb-indexed). The new catalogue though seemingly no larger, contains 110 pages more in the stamp listings than in the 95th edition. The cover is a bright yellow orange; brightest color of binding used since we've used the book and that's been . . . years. A new subtitle is imprinted on the cover "The Encyclopedia of Philately" which is by no means an overstatement as the factual matter contained in the book makes it a one-volume reference library. A revue of the price changes was contained in several recent issues of LINN'S in detailed manner, based on the advance sheets, so we'll not repeat them here. U. S. collectors will be most interested to note the renumbering of all U. S. stamps except those for ordinary postage. In pricing, the downward trend of revisions is emphasized in 20th century issues of U. S., though in foreign the increases nearly equal the numerous cuts. In illustrations, the U. S. is also in the fore in change, for here the envelopes become very much more easily understood by addition of full illustrations of all designs. As before, the book is edited by Hugh and Theresa M. Clark. In foreign issues, among added facts, will be found the method of printing of many issues and this will be completed in the next edition. In addition to the change in numbering system, which has been explained in detail some weeks ago; there has been a consolidation of scattered listings of stamps which though of the same issue appeared at intervals of years—most noticeable in British Colonies. The catalogue continues to excel in typography all the foreign general catalogues, a point on which the publishers are modestly silent, but very noticeable when comparing the book with illustrations and makeup of its contemporaries from abroad.

Lubeck, Handbook of Forgeries, by Otto E. Stiedl, published by Fritz Billing, 151-18—85th Ave., Jamaica, N. Y., price $1.20. 24 pages and cover, 7x9½, printed in German and illustrated throughout with large photos of various forgeries. Our German is limited, so our review must be limited to the above. A knowledge of the language would not be necessary of anyone desiring to check their stamps with the illustrations as the captions can be readily guessed.

A Primer of Philately, edited by Severino N. Luna, published by the Philippine Philatelic Association, 350 Arroceros St., Manila, P. I. This 16 page 7x9 inch booklet may be obtained for 10c in mailing cost from the Society. It is published especially for beginners and covers all the whys and hows of stamp collecting.

U. S. Official Postal Guide, Part II, International Postal Service, published by the Post Office Dept. and obtainable at an unstated price of the Supt. of Documents, Government Printing Office. The 320 pages of this paper bound 6x9 book contain all the information necessary for the sending of mail to any spot on the globe and while not written for philatelists, contains many interesting and little-known bits of information.

• The National Geographic Society's new map of Europe will be found useful by collectors of European issues. The index gives former and present names of cities.

The portraits for each series will be surrounded by a beautiful and appropriate background design, symbolic of the various subjects to be honored, and with appropriate wording and data for each subject.

It is going to be a tremendous job to produce this series of 35 different envelopes and keep a stock of sufficient quantity to supply those who order later. In fact, we can not guarantee to fill last minute orders. It is very probable that the first of these sets of five stamps will appear in December. To be sure that you will be able to get a complete set of envelopes, your order should be in our hands early.

ORDERS MAY BE PLACED NOW

Collectors desiring to do so may place orders now. It must be understood that those who have orders on our subscription plan will receive covers only as provided for under such subscription, either 6 of a kind, 15 of a kind or as their orders may read. We will however be glad to apply any credit such persons may have against sets of these covers if desired. We would however recommend that your orders be left as they are and that if you wish to order these sets and have your orders held for single issues that you so advise us in ordering. To those who wish to know what credit balance they have, we will be glad to advise them if you will send us an addressed postal card on which to forward you this information.

Panama Set Overlooked

So much attention was focused on the U. S. stamp being issued on board the U. S. S. Charleston and the long series by the Canal Zone on August 15, that most philatelists overlooked the series issued the same day at Republic of Panama post offices. Mrs. P. C. Davis, Ancon, writes that the Panamanian postal service prepared 10,000 envelopes with an official printed cachet in two colors, but only about 4500 were sold. The high face value of the series of stamps, which included two stamps with face value of one dollar U. S. each, discouraged sales among American collectors. The Panama post offices used a purple pictorial oblong cancel on the first day of issue with first day inscription.

FIRST DAY CALENDAR

3c Four States Stamp, large horizontal rectangular format, issued Nov. 2, at Pierre, S. Dakota and Bismarck, N. Dakota; Nov. 8, Helena, Mont.; and Nov. 11, at Olympia, Washington. Only to be sold on these days at these four offices, prior to general issue everywhere on Nov. 13.

PRECANCEL STAMP NEWS

Send information on new issues and notes of interest to

K. M. GIERHART, BALTIMORE, OHIO

BILL OF HEALTH

From the time of the Black Harding through the other commemorative issues that followed, the Precancel Fraternity followed a suppression policy on favor and unnecessary commemorative issues of Precancels. The press gave them no publicity and the catalog makers used great restraint in valuing such material. The result was that the favor issues had died down considerably and the incentive to make new varieties was almost erased. But in the past few years the bars have been let down, too far to my notion, and much publicity is given to favor-made commemorative precancels. Dealers must handle them because there is some demand for them but they generally sell with the thought that the buyer knows what he is doing and their only concern is to make sure that the stamps are not outright fakes or counterfeits. Even then they can be fooled. It is my suggestion that no commemorative should be listed unless a little about its origin is published too. I'll make the motion; will some one second it?

VIRGIN ISLANDS

There seems to be some controversy over the Playing Cards stamps overprinted Virgin Islands. Some collectors and dealers wanting them to be included in the Bureau Catalog because they were overprinted by the Bureau. Those against listing them contend that by this same method of reasoning the Kansas and Nebraska, Hawaii and Molly Pitcher overprints ought to be listed too. We are inclined to agree with the con side and feel they should not be included in the catalog. There is no doubt that an additional cancellation was placed on them by the manufacturing company and even if not they still do not rate a precancel status.

BURO AND CITY TYPE

Every once in a while we hear from collectors who come upon pieces of mailing that carry both bureau and city type precancels and they wonder if this is unusual or not and we always answer "no." All of the large precancel using cities have plates which are kept in the home office for supplementary orders. You couldn't even call it emergency because conditions often arise that cause the use of city types. Here are some of the reasons why we often find city types and bureaus on the same piece of mail. The ordering office must order large quantities of the bureau values and because of this like to leave their supplies run as low as possible to avoid a large inventory or to keep from running over their credit allowance. Unexpected heavy sales then may deplete their precancelled stocks and a small lot of city types must be made up locally to fill orders. Some certain values like the six cent may have a large demand by a premium mailer and city types made up to fill demand. Other users then would get city type six-cent values and perhaps all other bureau, so on his mail you would find the mixed types. Some cities only order certain values from the bureau and if not too large demand arises will have city types made up instead of using bureaus and then use their bureau stocks in combination with these to make a mailing rate. We noted a 1c bureau coil and a ½c city types used together recently to prove our point. The government does not approve of this use of two stamps but a lot of times this happens, approval or not. There are many other reasons why bureau and city types are used in combination if we could think of them.

Stamp Course at O. S. U.

A series of talks and discussions of stamp collecting will be incuded in the program of the Adult Evening School of Ohio State University during the autumn quarter. Meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 in Derby Hall on the campus, Columbus, O.

The many subjects to be presented will include early stamps, the manufacture of postage stamps, identification and mounting, general collections, the stamps of various important countries and other types of specialized collections.

This series will provide an opportunity for interested persons as well as collectors to learn of the wide possibilities of stamp collecting as a recreation. The speaker at each meeting will be a well-known collector who will show and discuss an outstanding collection. This will be followed by an informal discussion and question period.

An incidental fee of $1.00 will be charged which will admit the student to any of the other classes offered by the Evening School to adults over 18 years of age. There are no definite educational requirements. The meetings will be directed by John H. Thompson, a member of the Columbus Philatelic Club.

• One of the largest groups of wholesale lots offered for some time in an American auction will be included in the next auction, October 31, of the Cosmos Stamp Co. Seven hundred such lots will be auctioned in this one sale.

• The exhibition at the A. P. S. Convention was estimated as worth "$2,000,000" by one newspaper reporter, according to clipping from Mrs. H. A. Diamant. Mrs. Diamant exhibited her 10c 1847 on huge valentine, a rarity which cost her $320, and won first prize with her collection of Patriotics.

The New 1939 Christmas Seal

Although we have sweltered in record-breaking heat during the past few weeks, a body of men and women have been hard at work designing and bringing forth the 1939 Christmas Seal to be sold at Thanksgiving time.

This year's seal is designed for simplicity itself and will (in our own opinion) be the most beautiful seal to grace our Christmas packages. It was designed by that great artist, Rockwell Kent. Of him the world knows that, from his early works in 1907, down to the present time, he is known as America's most prolific artist as well as explorer.

The seal and poster, in their vigorous simplicity of color, line and thoroughly modern conception, are characteristic examples of Mr. Kent's work, striking at once to the emotional core of a problem.

Foremost on the seal will be found the double-barred cross, the emblem of the Christmas seals since their inception. Said Mr. Kent, "It has beauty and symbolic meaning!" —Edwin Brooks.

BROADWAY CHATTER

BY BISTANDER

To start this week's news from New York, I again must comment on the lack of mint Poland. There were never any heavy stocks of this country but now the wholesalers haven't any stocks at all.

New Issue importers have another headache; it seems that when they receive new issues there is an extra percentage added to their bills called war insurance.

Two new German sets appeared on Saturday, and the dealers who didn't know they had arrived were left out in the cold. The initial supplies as usual didn't last long. Funny part of this was that some dealers just took the stamps and then found that they were paying exhorbitant prices for new issues. One large importer tried to fool the boys into thinking that he had the only shipment, and proceeded to "soak" them. But, it seems the boys had the last laugh on him. They bought additional supplies at a lower price and returned their original shipments. They made sure of this by stopping payment on all checks that they had issued in payment.

This war situation has banded dealers closer together, because they realize that someone will try and take advantage of the situation. It is a good thing because they are protecting their customers' best interests.

J. M. Bartels this month is inaugurating the first of a better grade of auction sales. Every item in the sale is free from damage. Every item is also calculated to bring at least $10.00.

It seems that the Germans had actually known that they would occupy Danzig, because one of the two new sets from Germany has the inscription "Danzig Is Deutsch." This is not an overprint issue. Therefore, the designs must have been prepared in August because the set reached New York on September 30th, and it now takes four weeks to receive mail from Europe. The war started the first of September.

Pony Express

The Pony Express rider depicted in the Sept. 2 LINN's arrived the latter part of September at New York City, completing his 3,500-mile horseback trip from the Golden Gate Exposition. To finance the trip, souvenir covers were sold at 50c each. Mr. King plans to celebrate the 80th anniversary of the original Pony Express early next year by a record horseback trip of about 30 days back to the west coast. Covers will be carried and further details may be obtained of him by writing Mr. King, Kew Gardens Inn, Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y.

Northern Route Suspends Operations

Air mail service by the Pan-American Airways on the northern route via Canada and Newfoundland to Eire ended temporarily at least with the flight leaving New York City on Sept. 30 and returning from Foynes, Eire, on Oct. 4. This leaves Newfoundland without international air mail service, as Imperial Airways suspended their flights with the round trip returning from New York Sept. 27.

The southern P. A. A. route continues in operation with eastern terminus of Lisbon, Portugal. The route to Bermuda from New York continues to operate. Whether the northern route will be resumed next summer is not known.

Newfoundland Censor

The unsealed envelope enclosing a circular from the Rev. E. A. Butler of St. George's, Newfoundland, received Sept. 29 bears on the face a two-line rubber stamped impression in large capital letters in red "PASSED BY CENSOR". The stamp bears usual Newfoundland cancellation. Mails from Canada and Great Britain received up to the same date bore no markings indicating censorship was in force.

• Navy post offices were ordered established on Sept. 15 on board the U. S. S. Umpqua and Mustin.

Commemorative Stamp Facts

By Capt. A. C. Townsend

THE 3c ALASKA

The second territorial stamp, the 3c Alaska, was issued in November, 1937. Of the usual size, it is dark purple in color and quite attractive, altho the design is crowded, as with most of our commemoratives. In the background is a reproduction of Mount McKinley and in the foreground supposedly Alaskan scenes. Some critic promptly came up with the statement that the plow being used was throwing the dirt to the left, an unheard of thing, but others came to the rescue of the designer and showed that such plows are in common use in some parts of the country.

The 3c Alaska dark purple, rotary press, perf. 11 x 10½, no wmk., was issued on November 12, 1937, Juneau, capital of Alaska, being the first day city. 75,000,000 stamps were ordered printed from plates 21714-15-16-17 and 230,370 first day covers were cancelled at Juneau.

• Though larger buildings in London where air-raid shelters have been installed are now protected with sand bag barricades, stamp dealers have not used this means of protection. Only a few dealers have moved to rural locations and so far only one dealer has closed entirely.

• Hungary's Bethlen set, we are advised by Mark Revesz of Budapest, is commemorative of the tercentenary anniversary of the rule of the Transylvanian monarch, Gabriel Bethlen.

• Pilgrim Cachets, Box 158, Bergenfield, N. J., plans cachets for the 31 Presidents and for all state capitals at 1c each for forwarding.

Annual Events Calendar

Under this heading we will list all scheduled annual events if the clubs will advise us promptly of their exhibitions, etc. For this publicity to do the most good it should be printed here about two weeks prior to date of the event and in order to be in at that time we should be advised no later than one month prior to the date set. Space does not permit listing the same affair for a number of weeks, but if advised early we will list your event once in the next issue possible after you advise us and then insert the notice again in the three issues prior to the date. Thus, information can be sent us as early as you please and a maximum of publicity will result. Remember please this is a weekly, not a daily, and items received for publication cannot therefore reach print the same day or sometimes the same week they are received.

P. P. P. Congress

The Pioneer Philatelic Phalanx Conclave ended October 1 at San Francisco after a ten-day session, with a congress of speakers in the auditorium of the Palace Hotel. Among the speakers were Milto Weil, Lucerne, Switzerland, editor of the French Air Mail Catalog and founder of the Swiss aero society; James Waldo Fawcett, stamp editor of the Washington Star; Dr. Holzberg, president of the California Collectors Club, and many others.

Registration during the conclave nearly reached 2,000. Old-timers from all over the U. S., and some from foreign countries, were in attendance. The oldest couple were Mr. and Mrs. G. Merrill. Mr. Merrill is 89 years of age.

• Paraguay planned to place on sale its Peace Conference series depicting among other American Presidents, F. D. Roosevelt, in October. Pending arrival of these stamps, needed for regular service, a series was issued in the latter part of September, ostensibly to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the University of Asuncion, H. G. Spanton, Buenos Aires, reports.
